Katie is the Director of Strategy, Planning and Organizational Development at Menzner Hardwoods, and represents the fifth generation of family ownership of the company. Her love of the hardwood industry started at a young age, visiting her grandfather and father at the mill in Marathon City, Wisconsin.

Katie graduated from the University of Notre Dame in 2013 and spent 10 years living and working around the Midwest for Google. In 2023, Katie returned to Menzner Hardwoods to join her father. Menzner Hardwoods, still headquartered in Marathon City, Wisconsin after 132 years, has grown to become America's premium manufacturer of hardwood mouldings, boards, and veneer-wrapped millwork. All Menzner products are made from domestically sourced timber, primarily using Red Oak, White Oak, Poplar, Maple, and Alder.
