

Representing District 25

Senator Quinn was born and raised in Barron County, where he attended St. Joseph Catholic School in Rice Lake and graduated from Rice Lake High School. During his senior year of High School, Romaine ran and was elected to the Rice Lake City Council. After serving for a year on the council, he was elected Mayor of Rice Lake at just 19 years old.

Romaine is an alum of UW - Eau Claire - Barron County, and ultimately obtained his bachelor's degree in Political Science and Public Leadership from UW-Green Bay. Upon graduating in May of 2014, he jumped back into public service and launched a bid for the 75th Assembly District, a position that Romaine held for 6 years.

Senator Quinn considers marrying "the farmer's daughter" his biggest accomplishment yet. Along with his wife Racquel he looks forward to raising their two sons in northwest Wisconsin.
