Ken was born and raised in rural northern Wisconsin and attended Prentice High School. He started his career in forestry as a youngster working with his father, Dan, in the woods logging with horses in the winter. Ken graduated from Prentice High School in 1997 and attended UW-Madison where he studied Animal Sciences and was a member of the Varsity Men's Rowing team. He graduated UW-Madison with a degree in Animal Sciences in 2001. After graduating from UW-Madison, Ken spent 3.5 years working full time logging with his dad in the winter and working on the neighbor's dairy farm the rest of the year. In the fall of 2005, Ken went back to school at UWSP to study forestry. He was a member of student SAF, serving as president for 2 years, as well as a member of the fire crew. Ken took off the fall semester of 2007 and did a 9-month co-op forester position with Plum Creek. Ken graduated from UWSP in 2009 with degrees in Forestry Administration and Utilization and Forest Management as well as minors in Soil Science and Business Administration. After graduation, Ken worked for 2 years as an Arborist for First Choice Tree Care. In June of 2011, Ken started his own forestry consulting business, Valley View Forestry, LLC. Ken was appointed to the Council of Forestry in 2016 to represent the interests of consulting foresters in Wisconsin. Ken enjoys running and cross-country skiing and has completed 5 American Birkebeiners.
